WIFE STORMS WRIGHT HOME AS DANCER LEAVES

Madison, Wis., Sept. 7 (A.P.)—Mrs. Miriam Noel Wright, estranged wife of Frank Lloyd Wright, arrived today en route to Springfield to make another attempt to storm the noted architect's villa, Taliesin. Mrs. Wright laid siege to the Wright estate last June, but was repelled by guards. She said her new siege was induced by the departure of Wright and Olga Milloff, dancer. Mrs. Wright recently filed suit against Mme. Milloff for $100,000, charging alienation of her husband's affections.

Peaceful Labor Day A Mother's Revenge Perhaps No Throne Let Business Alone

LABOR DAY has gone peaceably. In Europe it is a day of summer, a gathering of people and police. Here it is only another holiday. Labor isn't as well as it will be paid, and hours of labor are longer than they will be. But Labor is better off here than anywhere else, and is content.

THOSE THAT control Labor through money should make it their business to increase wages and shorten hours, proportionately with improvements in machinery and economies in production, instead of letting for strikes and violence to do the work.

Daugherty on Trial in Bribe Case

200 TALESMEN CALLED AT BRIBE TRIAL OF HARRY M. DAUGHERTY

New York, Sept. 7 (A.P.)—The outstanding case involving post-war fraud opened today in Federal Court. Selection of jurors to try Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general under the Harding administration, and Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, for conspiracy to defraud the government, began shortly before noon. A special panel of 200 talesmen had been summoned to the courtroom was crowded in the doors long before the appearance of the defendants.

RICH WOMAN IS KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

Down at Hyannis, on Cape Cod, the hand of death, having stricken down one woman, hovers over the heads of two others, while a father and husband races half across a continent on a special train in desperate hope that he may reach the Cape town before the dread finger may write a triple death sentence.

VALENTINO AT REST ON 'GOLDEN COUCH'

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 7 (N.Y.S.)—Rudolph Valentino was on his way to the last "Golden Couch" in a cryptic epitaph in the marble-walled Hollywood mausoleum. The actor, who had been a guest of the Roman Catholic Church, regrettably died, his last breath taken in the body of the great screen lover in a fatal attack of the heart.

Only about 400 could be seated in the church, but the chair of the mass for the dead, being in reverent attention, reached thousands of worshippers gathered in the streets around the house of worship.

2 GIRLS IN HOP FROM HUB TO FLY ACROSS U. S.

High up under the blue ceiling of the sky, New England's two most fortunate college girls are winging today toward Los Angeles—first college girls to attempt an Atlantic-to-Pacific flight.

By a throng of more than 2,000 envious spectators, the girls—Margaret C. Sheehan of Manchester, N. H., and Helen A. Park, Boston University student in U. S. Army—were sent away from the Boston Airport.

And as they soared into the sky, the crowd cheered girls as they started flight from hub to Pacific.

WARRENS WIN MORE ARRESTS BOOKS FIGHT IN HALL CASE

Boston, N. J., Sept. 7 (N.Y.S.)—Another arrest in connection with the Itala-Milla murder mystery is believed imminent today, following a guarded statement by special prosecutor Alexander Simpson. He said "Henry Stevens' alibi has been cracked and another arrest is expected soon."

Henry Stevens, brother of Henry Francis Stevens, brother of Henry Francis Stevens, and cousin of Henry Francis Stevens, is believed to be the murderer.

Another witness said to have been found who, like the name of a "third man" directly with the killing, was seen by some friends of Mrs. Jane Givens, the "p" murder.

SACCO COUNSEL LAYS CRIME TO HUB GANG

A Boston gang, some of whose members are now serving sentences for local holdups, actually committed the murders for which Bartolomeo Vanzetti and Nicola Sacco now face the death chair, according to the counsel for the men, Attorney William C. Thompson.

Thompson said that the plan for the crime had been laid in Providence. However, the new developments show, according to Thompson, that the crime was actually planned in a Boston "speakeasy" and that the execution was carried out in the city of Boston.

DAUGHERTY IN 'BRIBE' TRIAL

Buckner, who is personally directing the case for the government, also appeared early accompanied by his assistant, Kenneth P. Simpson, who was an important figure in getting the indictments in the case.

The indictment on which Daugherty and Miller are being tried charges them with "conspiracy to defraud the United States of their unpaid services as officials" by accepting a bribe of $100,000 in the return of $1,000,000 in cash and Liberty bonds to German elements of stock in the American Metals Company.

It is charged the alleged bribe was accepted within a month after their appointments by President Harding in 1921.

QUESTION TALESMAN.

After the jury had been fitted, questioning of prospective jurors began. The original plan for questioning the men through the bench, instead of individually by counsel for both sides, was abandoned and Buckner began questioning Myron E. Sivert, of Manhattan, the first prospective juror called.

One of the questions asked him was whether he would be willing to give fair weight to circumstantial evidence. Another was whether he would be prejudiced in favor of men who had held high public office.

Another subject on which the question was questioned was that of income tax disputes or adjustments. The examination of the first six jurors revealed none who had clashed with Uncle Sam in this respect.

Each juror was asked by Mr. Buckner whether he was a member of the American Legion, Col. Miller, one of the defendants, was active in the early organization of the Legion.

BRIDE OF YEAR BARES SECRET OF WEDDING

CUPID WAS THE DOCTOR

Mrs. Mitchell W. Benedict, formerly Miss Alma Marie Loring of Arlington, who eloped and wed a year ago. Her husband is a New York doctor. The couple kept their wedding a secret until today.

ARLINGTON GIRL IN ROMANCE

Every once in a while a woman bolts up who can keep a secret, and today Miss Alma Marie Loring of Arlington proved this by telling it to become known that she had married the 26-year-old doctor, son of a first family of Virginia.

They met in Boston while he was attending medical school. When he was graduated and interned in a New York hospital, it was decided by the sweethearts that the miles between Boston and New York would not seem so great if they were married.

To Brooklyn, N. Y., they hurried a year ago last August and were married by a justice of the peace, agreeing on the spot to keep the marriage secret for a year.

Alma held it longer than that before the words of revelation burst from her.

Now that it's out, Mrs. Benedict, who is a graduate of Cambridge Latin and a Boston business college, will go to New York and set up housekeeping for her husband.

A farewell party is planned by her friends, however, before the date.

HOWARD BROTHERS DISAPPEAR IN MEXICO

The mysterious disappearance of Albert and John Howard, in Mexico City, where they were to wage a legal battle with their father, John Franklin Howard, Haverhill manufacturer, was reported in the Mexican capital today.

Their announced intention to go to Mexico was to seek a settlement with their father with the divorce in Mexico before his second marriage.

crowd and the point where Wells stood beside his plane.

With motors roaring full, Bennett played with his controls in desperate fashion. But not until the heavy ship had dived down to within a couple of dozen feet above the ground did the air take on the lifting surface and the plane shot up again, missing the crowd.

Meanwhile Wells, together with a mail truck driver, had dived to earth in an attempt to escape the onrushing monster of the sky and by hugging the dirt when the danger had passed.

But the two girls, bubbling with happiness at the start of the air journey, were oblivious to the breath-taking moment and had eyes fixed ahead and upward.

ON TO THE WEST.

Proteges pro tem of Miss Lydia Finkham Grove, they were away toward the far West shore with Lieutenant "Eddie" Garrison piloting and the cases of each were left behind them.

Once around in a huge circle over the airport, their plane, accompanied by Bennett's ship and three others, winged—then a straight course was laid and the hum of the motors grew fainter and fainter as the black specks receded in the gaze of the watchers who had waved witty their departure.

A few miles away from Boston three of the accompanying planes flipped, fluttered, turned over and straightened out on the run back to Boston, leaving Margaret and Helen sailing the blue, alone under the canopy, except for Bennett's ship, traveling with theirs as far as Birmingham.

It was 3:30 when the girls, accompanied by Miss Grove and her mother, Mrs. Caroline Grove, arrived at the airport from Miss Grove's home in town. At the field they were greeted by Miss Sheehan's 80-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Margaret C. Sheehan.

Judas Sunday School Head Compared to Hall

BILLY SUNDAY ASSERTS RECTOR A PAWN ON DEVIL'S CHESSBOARD

By

W. H. Sunday

Daily we read the latest details of the extraordinary Hall killing mystery. With marvelous ingenuity detectives are able to go back four years, finding clues, "building up the case," wrapping cold facts and proofs around the suspected ones, as a spider wraps its web around a big insect and finally stings it to death, when it is thoroughly wrapped up and harmless.

So Detective Science wraps the threads of evidence around the guilty, and the judge does the stinging when the time comes.

ONE GREAT WITNESS

Detectives now find, according to the latest news, two witnesses who saw Dr. Hall die with Mrs. Mills, a singer in his choir. No one can doubt that hate, jealousy or both, inspired the killing.

But it is extraordinary that witnesses should be found so late. That old crumple tree seems to have been quite a centre of population.

But details of the case, the earthly witnesses, are not so important. The thing to remember is the DIVINE WITNESS THAT BEES EVERY ACT AND DEED OF OURS, FROM THE DAY WE ARE BORN UNTIL THE DAY WE ARE BURIED.

Nothing that we DO is hidden, nothing that we even THINK is unknown to the all-seeing eye. That's what interests us, if we have sense enough to want to go to heaven and keep out of hell.

And that is what interests me in the Hall-Mills case.

DEAD OR ALIVE, THE TRUTH

Nonsense was sent travelling through the world in the old saying, "Say nothing of the dead but what is good."

It ought to be, "Say nothing of the dead but what IS TRUE."

The evil that men do haunts others after they are dead. Therefore, the evil that they have done should be talked about plainly long after they are dead. Don't let death wipe out the truth.

God doesn't say that only dead sinners must be said and done about sinners simply because they have died. They are buried to the judgment seat, and if they deserve it, they are sent to burn in hell.

The worst kind of sinner is the hypocrite. He is a combination sinner.

If there is one place in hell hotter than another, that is where the so-called "Reverend" Dr. Hall is now, unless he repented in time, at the last minute.

Worse Than Judas

The good should know that good will be spoken of them once they have gone. The bad should know that truth will be spoken of them once they have gone.

Hypocrites are too ready to smooth over their sin while they are dying. There is no reason why other people should help them in the smoothing over process.

I say Dr. Hall was a double-decker hypocrite. HE MADE JUDAS LOOK LIKE A SUNDAY SCHOOL SUPER-INTENDENT.

Like a man tried to make money dishonestly, you would say that person.

New York, Sept. 7 (A.P.)—An aged animal trainer, in a vain effort to save the life of his charge, a boxing kangaroo, was burned to death today in a fire that destroyed two upper floors of a four-story warehouse in West 46th street, and caused the death of scores of stage animals and birds, valued at several thousand dollars.

Too late for the weekend holiday, fair weather is in Boston to make a visit of at least two days. The area of atmospheric disturbance which dominated recently and physically, the entire country from the Atlantic coast to the Mississippi, passed out of existence early today.

Memories—but not fond memories—of "Dr." Sterling C. Wyman, representative of Pola Negri at Rudolph Valentino's obsequies, are held in Boston, it was revealed today following "Dr." Wyman's exposure in New York.

It is an exposé of Dr. Wyman, whom newspapers have ferreted out as one of the cleverest impostors in the land; a man who has fooled disc jockeys from President Harding down.

The "down" includes many Carmen Lopez and Anita Hoffman, whom "Dr." Wyman clutched out of the line of Valentino's admirers and stationed at Valentino's bier, afterward promoting their brilliant movie careers.

Only three months ago, it was recalled today, "Dr." Wyman was in Boston, accompanied by a woman said to be his wife, and a dog. They were at a Commonwealth avenue hotel.

Young Marshall's clothing was sprinkled with the gasoline and he then went into Kenney's yard and poured the "gas" into an oil stove, lighting it.

The blast of flame that followed set fire to young Marshall's clothing and although he tried to get out, he was unable to do so. He was burned so badly that he died.

Mills Girl Writes of Troubles at Home

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In previous absorbing chapters of "My Story," Charlotte Mills, daughter of the slain woman in the Hall-Miller murder mystery, has told of her early life in her dear little home in New Brunswick, N. J. She has related how her mother turned to the church for consolation in her life of tragedy. Today she tells of the growing bonds of friendship between her mother and the Rev. Edward Hall, with whom she met her fate on a lonely New Jersey farm.)

CHAPTER 4—GROWING UP

I used to have strange feelings about my father. I don't blame father for not making money. People have to be as they are, I suppose. But I used to wonder why he had so little education. Schools were free. You could always study and read and find out things if you worked at it. Mother did.

I remember once the came home from a Ladies' Aid meeting or something and said she had heard a word she didn't understand. It was "Mumps," and she went right away to look it up in the dictionary. Thus she hunted for it in our encyclopedia.

She came back and told me it was the name of a holy place mentioned in the Old Testament, and that the Jews got to be used later as a sort of "good bye" sentence, meaning "I am leaving you with this and that, while we are absent one from another." We both thought that was beautiful.

MOTHER WAS MY ORIGIN

As I grew up, mother was more and more my origin. She was only 17 years older than me anyway, and we had the same way of looking at things and the same likes and dislikes, only she was smarter. She had a lively mind.

She loved to read about people and countries and she would always be imagining what Europe looked like and what Japan and China. She used to make up stories about places really true—and then laugh and say, "Oh, I'm just making it up! I like to think about it!"

Things at our house got worse, or at least they seemed worse to me, perhaps because I was getting old enough to realize how badly off we were and how hopeless everything was.

My father was a shoe-cutter and was working in a shoe factory in New Brunswick. It was close to Brooklyn and they wanted father to go along. He would have gone, but mother wouldn't leave New Brunswick. It was her home, she said, and her family was there and all her friends.

But most of all, she didn't want to leave the church. As I look back now, I know that the church was her life. She had nothing else but drudgery and disappointment. She was a thing, she told father he could go to Brooklyn and she and I would stay in New Brunswick and he could come out and see us when he wanted to.

LITTLE DIFFERENCES

Father wouldn't go without me. I really think it was my brother Dan who had mother and me. He has always cared tremendously for Dan and always has all the little family matters in his mind. Perhaps Dan is more like them, mother and I are like the father.

Anyhow, we never could get along very well with the Millses. We were all rather thoughtless of us as Germans and I know they think everything English is simply perfection.

In those days I had more and more understanding of mother and how dreary her life was and how lonely she was in her heart. She never had a chance to be happy. Mother didn't. Just housework and being poor and father having no ambition or ideas or anything she cared for, and us children to bring up, and no future, and she wasn't strong.

She confided in me and told me her thoughts and how she prayed I would have "some kind of a future." She used to beg me not to marry anybody until I was sure I loved him and that he was the right kind of man.

"Do something! Kid," she used to say. "Have some kind of a life! Don't live as I've had to. Do you understand?"

And I did understand. Every once in a while mother would get the idea and try and fix up the house a little better. But always there wasn't money enough to buy anything. Father couldn't see why we wanted anything. Mother and I would go window-shopping together.

GAVE HALL PICTURES

One day we saw a framed picture. It's the picture you often see. I think it is by a famous painter. It shows a little boy lying on his back on a hillside, shading his eyes with one hand and looking straight up into the sky, dreaming.

"That is just like Mr. Hall," mother told me. "He has described how he used to try to think things out when he was a boy on a farm. He tried to think out what life was all about and how he would ever get things for his two sisters and his mother. He wanted a great many things."

Mother bought that picture on part payment, and when she got it all, she gave it to Mr. Hall. He hung it up in his study at the church and said it was exactly like his own boyhood and took him back. Later on, he thought it best not to keep it there so he gave it to mother and she kept it in her room. I have it now.

My father and I had one room, and my father and Dan another. Dad and I went out to buy a new one. The store charged so much that we had to buy the bed on instalments. I'll never forget the day they delivered it, with the mattress and everything. Mother and I hid it in town till it was all paid for, for fear of what father would say. We knew experience. It was always trouble, trouble, trouble about money.

SLEPT IN CHURCH

We used to get sick over the church. Once we had an awful time over a wicker chair. The chair in our parlor was old and shaky. Mother

Inclement Weather Brings Postponement of Myopia Horse Show Events

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY

TRUE DEVOTEES OF THE TURF. Myopians both of growup and youthful ages, all came out for the thirteenth annual show, but Jupiter Pluvius was in unkind mood. A wet field and dripping skies put to rout even this staunch sporting aggregation and but six classes were shown.

SPECTACULAR EVENTS. The jumps, hunting teams and such, all go over until next Saturday when at 1:30 in the afternoon the interrupted card is resumed, and Myopians round out this Autumn season in their usual finished manner.

YOUTHFUL MYOPIANS figured largely in the six events it was possible to run. And in the trophy room of certain Ays, Shaw, Warren, Tuckerman, Proctor and other North Shore establishments there gleam many new and brilliant ribbons.

HORSES with brilliant records have added another paragraph to their histories. Also added from the Frederick Aysen stable carried off two blue and a red. Mrs. Bayard Tuckerman's Simple Sally is again a blue-ribboner.

LITTLE MISS PHILLIS TUCKERMAN got second in the second division of the Class for saddle horses with Junior being carried off two blue and a red. Mrs. Bayard Tuckerman's Simple Sally is again a blue-ribboner.

QUEENIE from the Sorrell stables, Red Rose, belonging to Quincy A. Shaw, Ed. Samuel D. Warren's Jolly Roger and Little Daisy, sleek little entry from the Tuckerman stables, were other ribbon winners.

WARM TWEEDS at once comfortable and smart, bright stickers in jewel colors, and rain-defying cheapeaux in varying modes and tones worn by the women Myopians gave rather an autumnal atmosphere to the scene.

THE BARON TUCKERMAN coach drawn up at the sidelines made a yulow and black splash of color. It's a familiar sight at North Shore shows. One shining old coach, and always carries a bevy of youngsters to the course.

DAME RUMOR says that Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Cameron Church, Jr. (Miss Vanderbilt) may become Newport property holders, with the acquisition by them of comfortable old Dudley Place as a summer home.

IT IS EMINENTLY fitting that young Mrs. Church should hold forth as a Newport hostess, in the ultra smart ballroom where she always shows. And Dudley Place is exactly the unpretentious, homelike establishment this democratic daughter of uncounted millions would choose.

ON SOUTHERN suggestion, large and square and high pillared: not about with handsome trees of venerable years. Dudley Place is one of Newport's most pleasing sights.

MRS. FREDERICK SILSBEE VI WHITFIELD was a distinguished figure on Bellevue avenue, recently, as she and Mr. Whitfield dined heartily into the social whirl at Newport.

RADIANT AND HANDSOME in horizon blue coat frock with small, snug hat, she was notable even in that centre of ultra feminine array. Miss Ruth Thayer, wrapped in gray carnation after an hour at tennis, was a pretty Bostonian on "The Avenue."

MRS. JOSEPH M. STODDARD
An attractive Washington matron, is spending Autumn in New Hampshire.

SHEFFIELD SEES 39 ADDED TO COOLIDGE TODAY B. U. FACULTY

Paul Smith's N. Y., Sept. 7 (A.P.)—James R. Sheffield, American ambassador to Mexico, arranged a trip to White Pine Camp today in order that President Coolidge might have a personal report on his envoy on conditions in Mexico.

Reported that Ambassador Sheffield desired to resign, inasmuch as he believed the Washington government should exercise a different policy in regard to Mexico, have been emphatically denied both at the summer executive conference and here.

President Coolidge, Secretary Kellogg and Mr. Sheffield, it has been reported, are in agreement on the present American practice of "hands off" in Mexican domestic situations as long as American lives and property are not endangered.

1,000 BANANAS GO TO CHILDREN IN HOSPITAL

One thousand bananas, which were to have added to the happiness of 500 Latin newboys at the Graves double-header on the holiday, brought pleasure instead today to little patients at the Children's Hospital, Longwood avenue.

The bananas were donated by E. R. Grubbs, proprietor of the New Ocean House, Swampscott, where, in that centre of ultra feminine array, Miss Ruth Thayer, wrapped in gray carnation after an hour at tennis, was a pretty Bostonian on "The Avenue."

Thirty-nine additions to the faculty of Boston University and twenty-three promotions were announced today by President Daniel L. Marsh, the School of Medicine building with its new instruction.

Dr. William Reid Morrison of Brookline, junior visiting surgeon of Boston City Hospital, formerly a faculty member at Harvard and Tufts Medical Schools, and a wartime member of the Harvard overseas surgical unit, is made assistant professor of surgery at the B. U. School of Medicine.

The Rev. C. M. McConnell of Pittsburgh, is appointed to the staff of the School of Theology at professor of town and country church work in which he is a recognized authority. He received the degree of Bachelor of Sacred Theology from Boston University in 1910 and has made a study of rural church conditions in every part of the United States.

Twelve new teachers are added to the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts, seven to the College of Business Administration, three to the College of Practical Arts, of the twenty-three promotions in the various university departments nineteen are in the School of Medicine.

According to Dean Beeg of the School of Medicine the large number of changes there is the usual turnover in the teaching staff due to resignations and expiration of teaching agreements of doctors who have served without pay in connection with hospital work of the students. In other university departments the appointments in many cases are to replace instructors who leave of absence.

$500,000 COAL TOWERS READY

Boston's waterfront, declared by experts to be lacking in many developments that would tend to progress, has one new feature, just completed, to which the Maritime Association of the Chamber of Commerce will point with justifiable pride on a trip around the harbor next Thursday.

The new feature is a battery of six coal discharging towers at Mytic Wharf, completed a few days ago at a cost of $500,000.

Work on the towers was started last January as an adjunct to the Boston and Maine railroad for coal distribution to New England, and the battery is the last word in efficiency production.

Experts the largest ships can be emptied of coal cargoes within eight hours, and the plant is expected to handle 1,500,000 tons a year.

The plant will be operated by the Mytic Terminal Company, E. S. Francis, president. Three of the six towers are said to be the largest of their kind ever built for steam operation. The huge buckets used on these towers will carry three tons of coal in each operation.

Mother's Bread Is Breaking 'Dry' Law

Philadelphia, Sept. 7 (A.P.)—Home made bread, the kind mother used to make, contains a greater alcoholic content than beverages permitted under the prohibition law, the American Chemical Society was told today.

Prof. Nicholas Knight and Victor Stuppan of Cornell College, Mt. Vernon, Iowa, reporting the results of their researches with 12 samples of bread, bakers' and home made declared they found alcoholic content to vary from 4 to 1.8 per cent, with the larger quantity present in the home made variety.

Stale bread was found to contain no alcohol.

ILLINOIS VOTE PROBE IS ALMOST FINISHED

Kansas City, Sept. 7 (A.P.)—United States Senator James A. Reed, chairman of the Senate committee investigating election expenditures, believes there is "nothing more to cover" in the Illinois primary campaign fund inquiry.

Consisting of the recent primary investigations, Reed said that the Illinois inquiry was virtually completed, the committee has not definitely decided whether more witnesses would be examined.

ENGINEER HELD IN WRECK

Chicago, Sept. 7 (A.P.)—A Chicago and Northwestern suburban train brought death and injury to scores of Chicagoans returning from Labor Day outings when it telegraphed the rear of a holiday special which was discharging passengers at an outlying station four miles from the loop.

Hours of labor in the debris of the two wrecked cars, wooden coaches pressed into holiday service, brought the toll of identified dead to five and the list of injured to approximately 100 persons.

Engineer Lester Smith, of the suburban train, placed under arrest when found in a state of collapse at a hospital, admitted running past a warning block signal but blamed the wreck on failure to have a brake, most enough back of the special, and the approach of an oncoming train which led him to dim his headlights.

The last man carried from the debris died putting a cigarette in his mouth, but a moment before. Another man, his body wedged between two seats, accepted a sip of water and then directed workers to other victims. When he was finally freed it was ascertained that he had severed at the ankle. A 40-year-old woman, Mrs. William Carter, threw herself through a window just before the crash, and escaped with minor injuries.

PRINCE OF WALES TO COME HERE IN 1927

Paris, Sept. 7 (A.P.)—The Prince of Wales is going to the United States next year, says a despatch to the Paris edition of the New York Herald from Biarritz, where the Prince is on vacation.

The correspondent says the Prince told Alexander F. Moore, former United States ambassador to Spain, that he expected that his visit would be to the semi-centennial at Philadelphia.

"But I am sure going to America next year," the Prince is quoted as having said, "and I am looking forward to my second visit with great pleasure."

SOCIALIST'S DISAPPROVE OF HERRIOT IN CABINET

Lyon, France, Sept. 7 (A.P.)—As a mark of its ardent disapproval of Edouard Herriot, Mayor of Lyons, taking the office of Minister of Education in the Poincaré Cabinet, the Socialist majority in the City Council has voted lack of confidence in him. M. Herriot admitted to the greatest municipal administrator in France, and during his twenty years of continuous tenure of the mayoralty he has introduced innumerable improvements in the city. M. Herriot says he will ask the citizens of Lyons to vote on whether they will stand by him or the Socialists.

TAXI INSURANCE RATE $150

Taxis, only a few of which carry personal liability insurance, will be required to pay a minimum rate of $150 under the new compulsory insurance law, effective January 1.

The difference between a "taxi" and a "public hire automobile" was explained today by Insurance Commissioner Monk's office.

A taxi is a motor vehicle, seating capacity not exceeding seven, with a meter.

The same cab without a meter is classified as a public hire automobile.

The maximum rate of the taxi will be based on mileage ranging from 15 cents to 25 cents, according to the territory in which operated. The initial payment beyond the minimum charge will be reckoned on the amount of business done in previous years. A check on current mileage will determine additional payments or deductions.

On the other hand, two alternate plans are at the disposal of the public hire automobile owner.

If he operates in the first district—Greater Boston—he can pay a flat rate of $255 a year, in the second district $268, and in the third grouping of towns, $147.

Or he can elect to take a rate based on earnings, whether collected or not. Under this latter method, $4.50 will be charged for each $100 of earnings in the first group, 4.50 in the second, and $3.75 in the third. The minimum of $150 for taxable public good for private hire automobiles under both plans.

Under the schedule of rates in the manual of the insurance companies at the present time, the rate for taxable is $255 in $275.

Monk to Answer Queries on Auto Insurance

Insurance Commissioner Wesley P. Monk will answer questions concerning the new compulsory liability automobile insurance through the Boston Evening American.

In order that automobile owners may have no difficulty in complying with the new law, the Boston Evening American announces an "insurance service."

For instance, if you want to know what is required to protect you on private ways, private property and outside the State, write to the Insurance Office of the Boston Evening American.

Questions as to the procedure necessary in obtaining registration plates, where to get the blank forms and how to fill them in, will be answered, together with any other queries pertaining to the new law.

Give your name, the make of your car, the address from where it is registered and its model, if the manufacturer turns out several lines of machines. As far as possible the inquiries will be answered generally in the columns of the Boston Evening American.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

RAPS 'DRY LAW' AND COURT

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 7 (A.P.)—United States Senator James A. Reed definitely announced here he would not again be a candidate for the Senate at the expiration of his present term.

"I have put in 18 years and I want to attend to my law business," the Senator said.

Entering into a denunciation of the prohibitory laws, the Senator declared:—

"I believe such state can handle the liquor question better for itself than it can be handled at Washington."

He declared himself in favor of modification, within the terms of the 18th amendment, to permit sale of light wine and beer. The Senator, turning up his heels on Internationalism, said:—

"The two greatest abominations I know today are Mr. Coolidge asserting the League of Nations has nothing to do with the World Court and the United States outside the door with its hat in its hand awaiting the decision of 15 foreign gentlemen to see if they will admit us to the convention."

FAILED IN SWIM; FEW CHEER HER

New York, Sept. 7.—Charlotte Harrett, the woman who swam forty miles in the English Channel and stayed in the water more than 21 hours, last month, in a futile attempt to reach the other side, has arrived home.

No hallelujahs when Charlotte arrived.

No parade to City Hall and a welcome from the Mayor. No bands, no wild cheering.

On the dock there was only a handful of her fellow-swimmers, come down from New Rochelle, where she tentatively agreed, to show appreciation.

As the few cars occupied by these people passed through the streets, the scattering crowds on the sidewalks sometimes recognized her and cheered in feeble fashion.

But with the threatening rain and the holiday that parade was mighty thin.

The home folks took her to a luncheon arranged in her honor and later in the day escorted her back home to New Rochelle.

MUSICAL PLAY WILBUR

"The Daring Duchess" Proves to Be Very Sprightly Offering

By NICHOLAS YOUNG.

IN a relocation from "The Dancing Countess" of the Old world to the "Daring Duchess" of another hemisphere, a sprightly musical play of good prospect finds itself indulging in freer liberties under the treatment of Joseph J. Garret, adapter and first aid, to its own hand-picked orchestra. With Garret as the wheel, the performance at the Wilbur took on the broad dimensions of a one-act show in respect to structure.

However, Mr. Garret merely swung a magic baton and let it go at the Wilbur, but the event passed off happily as "The Daring Duchess" moved on to its pitfalling way. Except for the under-the-table and those who missed their last train or walked off on the final, the audience prepared to meet what we may call the "Daring Duchess" in a new setting.

In any event, "The Daring Duchess" of the original version, preserved in its American adaptation, though unimpaired, prepared to meet what we may call the "Daring Duchess" in a new setting.

SEEN IN COMEDY AT THE NEW PARK

Lean and Mayfield Combine
Makes "Bubbling Over"
Real Treat

The Tremont reopened last night like a man with four arms. He added a new season in musical comedy, "Bubbling Over," the latest version in fruit and frolic of the merry artists, Cecil Lean and Mayfield.

A million dollars were rung off the beams in record time, and friends of the show were almost at a loss to join the jolly applause in front of the Tremont's stage money, where it would produce the most stimulation.

Through the book, by Clifford Grey, gave more than a passing nod to certain time-honored traditions in this respect, the thread of "humor" is drawn in a most favorable—never got tangled too tightly in the interpolated vaudeville specialties, dance pandemonium, and similar adjuncts of melodious frivolity.

A few anxious amateurs from Boston has not dimmed the charm of the show and Mayfield combination.

Mr. Lean shows the same touch of humor as Mayfield, who has brought her wifely duty to higher perfection, and together they attract the wondrous of artistry in the field of musical comedy.

Janet Macdonald, with blonde loveliness and sweet voice, was a most competent singer, and her supporting company sang and danced in a way to rattle the audience from a happy audience.

Are you blue? There's a sure cure at Keith's. Last night Keith's and Janes, blackface act, were a riot. They had everybody in the theatre dry from laughter.

By main strength Anne Morrison and Patricia McKnight, whose names are well known to the audience, were the main attraction of the show.

And so, with the Miles Theatre that turns everything beneath its hand into a success, the show is a success.

THE MUSICAL SHOW AT TREMONT

Lean and Mayfield Combine
Makes "Bubbling Over"
Real Treat

The Tremont reopened last night like a man with four arms. He added a new season in musical comedy, "Bubbling Over," the latest version in fruit and frolic of the merry artists, Cecil Lean and Mayfield.

Through the book, by Clifford Grey, gave more than a passing nod to certain time-honored traditions in this respect, the thread of "humor" is drawn in a most favorable—never got tangled too tightly in the interpolated vaudeville specialties, dance pandemonium, and similar adjuncts of melodious frivolity.

A few anxious amateurs from Boston has not dimmed the charm of the show and Mayfield combination.

Mr. Lean shows the same touch of humor as Mayfield, who has brought her wifely duty to higher perfection, and together they attract the wondrous of artistry in the field of musical comedy.

Janet Macdonald, with blonde loveliness and sweet voice, was a most competent singer, and her supporting company sang and danced in a way to rattle the audience from a happy audience.

Are you blue? There's a sure cure at Keith's. Last night Keith's and Janes, blackface act, were a riot. They had everybody in the theatre dry from laughter.

By main strength Anne Morrison and Patricia McKnight, whose names are well known to the audience, were the main attraction of the show.

And so, with the Miles Theatre that turns everything beneath its hand into a success, the show is a success.

LAST-YEAR BEAUTIES SEE NEW 'MISS AMERICA' CROP
Atlantic City, Sept. 7 (A.P.)—Miss America of 1925 was on hand today to share in selecting her successor from the 1926 crop of 12 beauties in the intimacy beauty contest.

Miss Fay Landis, winner of the crown last year, arrived last night, as did Miss Australia, Beryl Mills, Miss Editha Beach, Miss Diana, N. T., and Miss Whitcomb Gables.

FOR Sour Stomach PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Heretofore instead of soda take a little "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, and gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda
For fifty years genuine "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as any other solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all

'Pied Pipers' Give Calls of Pigdom Over Radio

Omaha, Sept. 7 (A.P.)—Five pied pipers of pigdom did their "poo-oos, hoo-ooos, poooo" and other yodels before the microphone at the opening of the world's championship pig calling contest, being held here this week in conjunction with a radio show.

Considerable individuality prevailed, the calls running a gamut of screeches, shrieks and yells.

Mrs. M. C. Warner, woman champion of Nebraska, gave a demonstration of little pig calls.

Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentation in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle
Initiated upon "Phillips' Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, my drugstore, "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Both Mrs. Warner and relative of Miss Mack were firm in their declaration that the missing nurse had no love affairs.

She went to Europe with a wealthy Rhode Island family, Mr. and Mrs. MacBarrin. When they reached the continent, Mr. MacBarrin went to Switzerland and Miss Mack went to Paris.

CHIMMS SURE LOST GIRL IS 'ALL RIGHT!'

"Alice will be all right. I know she's not drowned."

This was the assertion today of Miss Gladys Maria, companion of Alice H. Mack, 31, of No. 27 May street, Lowell, who vanished from steamship Orosa as it entered New York Harbor.

Telling Miss Maria she wanted some fresh air, Mack left her stateroom and has not been seen since.

She is a graduate of Massachusetts General Hospital, and was returning from a European trip with Miss Maria, whom she met in Paris.

Miss Maria, a Lowell school teacher, of No. 114 Vermont street, came to Lowell to see Miss Mack's father, William Mack.

Miss Maria, who showed the effect of nervous tension, sought any possibility of suicide. She told her story to Mr. Mack, Samuel Phelps, an uncle of the missing girl. Eventually she participated her narrative with the assertion, "She is all right. I know she's not drowned."

Miss Maria's baggage, however, was not called for when the boat docked, and although the boat was searched thoroughly, no trace of the missing nurse was found.

Both Mrs. Warner and relative of Miss Mack were firm in their declaration that the missing nurse had no love affairs.

She went to Europe with a wealthy Rhode Island family, Mr. and Mrs. MacBarrin. When they reached the continent, Mr. MacBarrin went to Switzerland and Miss Mack went to Paris.

TAXI KILLS CAMBRIDGE GIRL ON VACATION

Cambridge, Sept. 7 (A.P.)—A taxi cab killed a young woman on a vacation trip today in Cambridge, Mass.

The victim, Miss Ruth J. Floren, of No. 119 Mt. Auburn street, Cambridge, employed in the office of the clerk of courts, Federal building, was killed when a taxi plowed her against an "X" structure in New York.

Her fiancé, Walter A. Parker of Braintree, witnessed the accident. They were members of a party of 30 Greater Boston folk on a holiday tour.

Announcement of the death was made by Hamilton H. F. president of the college. Of the total gift, $10,000 will be spent for an erection of a chapel, to be known as the chapel in honor of the donors.

Frances Knowles and Heiter Ann Knowles. The remainder will be placed with a like sum donated by Robert H. Gray, also mentioned, toward a $100,000 endowment fund being raised by the alumni of the college.

Mr. Knowles, father of the donor, was a large Massachusetts wool mill owner. He spent his winters in Europe. His son was one of the founders of Rollins College, Winter Park, the site of the college, is near Lakeland.

FIRE CAUSES SCARE IN MARKET DISTRICT
Fire broke out today in the market district today as flames swept down the basement to the third floor of the structure across block at 200 Chestnut street, occupied by Laysa Mena and Company.

Wooden buildings adjoining the block were threatened but the flames were confined to the store buildings where damage was chiefly to dry goods in which the concern did a business. The cause was undetermined. The fire had gained considerable headway before it was discovered, but the type of construction of the building prevented it from causing more serious damage.

More Work in Maine
Biddeford, Me., Sept. 7 (A.P.)—The plants of the Penobscot Manufacturing Company in this city and the York Manufacturing Company, Baco, resumed work today on a full time schedule. The local plant of the Baco-Lowell shops this morning changed from a four to a five-day-a-week schedule.

LABOR LEADER HITS RICH DRY LAW BREAKERS

Danbury, Ct., Sept. 7 (A.P.)—Labor must have friends in halls of legislation, Patrick O'Neara of New Haven, president of the Connecticut Federation of Labor, declared here today in his report to the officers and delegates of the forty-first annual convention of the State organization.

"We must interest ourselves in the primaries to elect those who will run for the office, and after succeeding in this, work hard until election time to elect those nominated," he said.

Convinced that this country has had enough of capital class legislation and corruption beginning with the days of the discredited attorney general, Harry M. Daugherty, President O'Neara said he was "sure that our wage earners are becoming more enlightened each day."

On prohibition he said: "Working classes are protesting for business interests seem to get all the alcohol needed for their whiskey."

"The working people are not violating the law half as much as the capitalists are," he said.

"We are gunners in America out squarely for a return of the social conditions that prevailed previous to 1922, when the law took away the poor man's drinking place."

"We want to have in the country a return to the constitutional principle—if a man desires to buy a drink, he should get it, and pay for it, and the government should supply his manufacturing and sale."

If this course was taken a more contented people and a better social order would be the result.

On the co-operative movement his comment was: "Remember that the leading labor union need your support. Remember that the bread and butter trusts are spending large sums of money to keep the international union of cigar makers and bakery workers."

COOLIDGE MOURNS FOR 'VALET TO PRESIDENTS'
Paul Smith, N. Y., Sept. 7 (A.P.)—The death in Washington of Major Arthur Brooks, valet to President Coolidge, was mourned here today by President Coolidge. Recently Mr. Coolidge and Major Brooks as one of the first men in Washington and other states to be killed in the line of duty.

OCTOBER 16TH OF THIS YEAR IS THE 35TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE FOUNDING OF THE INTERNATIONAL CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOLS

For Thirty-Five Years This Great School Has Been Helping Men to Succeed in Business and in Life

The merit of its instruction and a sincere desire to serve have made possible the enrollment of 3,400,000 students

THIRTY-FIVE years ago this October, the International Correspondence Schools were founded at Scranton. That was the birth of the idea of correspondence instruction. That was the beginning of a new method of training that has since become an indispensable part of the educational program of the nation.

Any institution that survives the storm and stress of thirty-five years and shows increasing vitality with the passing of each milestone must have in it the chief essential of success in any enterprise or individual... merit!

Back of this remarkable record of achievement, there looms a sturdy and heroic figure—the successful I. C. S. student. He is found in every city, town, village and hamlet in the whole land. He is the finished product of the "University of the Night" and the real reason for its survival and increasing success. At the head of industrial establishments, in the field, in the office, on the firing line, and on the staff, each at his task intent, he is unconsciously the mainspring, the accelerator, the motive power to the progress of the I. C. S.

Half of all the students enrolled by the International Correspondence Schools every day, every month, and every year are guided to our doors by his experienced and helpful hand, while the other half are inspired to enter our portals by the sheer force of his example.

To these men and women, who are among the leaders in business and industry today, we dedicate this 35th anniversary of their alma mater. To these men and women, we extend a cordial invitation to take part in the Anniversary Campaign now being carried on in every section of this country as part of the 35th birthday celebration of the International Correspondence Schools.

INTERNATIONAL CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOLS Scranton, Penna.

35th Anniversary Committee International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, Pa. A. W. As a former student of the International Correspondence Schools, I should like to know more about the 35th Anniversary Program mentioned above. Please send me full particulars.

Fire broke out today in the market district today as flames swept down the basement to the third floor of the structure across block at 200 Chestnut street, occupied by Laysa Mena and Company.

Wooden buildings adjoining the block were threatened but the flames were confined to the store buildings where damage was chiefly to dry goods in which the concern did a business. The cause was undetermined. The fire had gained considerable headway before it was discovered, but the type of construction of the building prevented it from causing more serious damage.

More Work in Maine
Biddeford, Me., Sept. 7 (A.P.)—The plants of the Penobscot Manufacturing Company in this city and the York Manufacturing Company, Baco, resumed work today on a full time schedule. The local plant of the Baco-Lowell shops this morning changed from a four to a five-day-a-week schedule.

LABOR LEADER HITS RICH DRY LAW BREAKERS

Danbury, Ct., Sept. 7 (A.P.)—Labor must have friends in halls of legislation, Patrick O'Neara of New Haven, president of the Connecticut Federation of Labor, declared here today in his report to the officers and delegates of the forty-first annual convention of the State organization.

"We must interest ourselves in the primaries to elect those who will run for the office, and after succeeding in this, work hard until election time to elect those nominated," he said.

Convinced that this country has had enough of capital class legislation and corruption beginning with the days of the discredited attorney general, Harry M. Daugherty, President O'Neara said he was "sure that our wage earners are becoming more enlightened each day."

On prohibition he said: "Working classes are protesting for business interests seem to get all the alcohol needed for their whiskey."

"The working people are not violating the law half as much as the capitalists are," he said.

"We are gunners in America out squarely for a return of the social conditions that prevailed previous to 1922, when the law took away the poor man's drinking place."

"We want to have in the country a return to the constitutional principle—if a man desires to buy a drink, he should get it, and pay for it, and the government should supply his manufacturing and sale."

If this course was taken a more contented people and a better social order would be the result.

On the co-operative movement his comment was: "Remember that the leading labor union need your support. Remember that the bread and butter trusts are spending large sums of money to keep the international union of cigar makers and bakery workers."

COOLIDGE MOURNS FOR 'VALET TO PRESIDENTS'
Paul Smith, N. Y., Sept. 7 (A.P.)—The death in Washington of Major Arthur Brooks, valet to President Coolidge, was mourned here today by President Coolidge. Recently Mr. Coolidge and Major Brooks as one of the first men in Washington and other states to be killed in the line of duty.

Major Brooks, who was a member of the United States Marine Corps, was killed in the line of duty while serving as a valet to President Coolidge.

Hub Net Luminaries Decline to Discuss Browne Case

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS

Pitcher Max Baehs of the Waterbury team is probably lost for the remainder of the season as the result of a broken finger, suffered while fielding a line drive.

Morgan, under Edna Palmer of Fort Worth fame, has been playing fine ball. Palmer keeps the base hunting and has two fine pitchers in Clark and Camp.

Williams Turns Down Bid to Play P.C. Eleven

ACT FAILS TO CREATE TALK HERE

Bishop Refuses to Comment on the Pro Status of the Former Champion

Mary K. Browne's bid from amateur to pro tennis and her announcement that she believed her action would "remove the hypocrisy from the game" failed to create any considerable stir in Boston tennis circles.

A majority of Boston's net notables inclined to the theory that Miss Browne, who will be the exhibition tour of Suzanne Lenglen on the latter part of the United States, merely obeyed her own impulse and did not question her right to make the move.

"This is plenty of room in tennis for everybody. Whether players are amateur or pro is a matter they must decide for themselves," was the somewhat cryptic statement of Elizabeth Bishop, secretary of the Longwood Cricket Club, Chestnut Hill, who is one of the most widely respected officials in the country.

Miss W. Niles, noted amateur player, took a liberal view of the situation. "I don't think," she said, "I am inclined to believe that pro tennis will survive about a year. I don't believe that even Miss Lenglen will survive her first tour. Unless Miss Browne is in need of money, I feel certain she will regret her move later. She always was a very strict amateur."

Mrs. Niles declared that she believed pro tennis was a destructive influence for the amateur game. It had led to the game to have many persons interested in the pro sport," said Mrs. Niles. "If they need the money they probably will turn pro. As they get older in the game they will not be able to keep up competition in the pro ranks, and they are through."

George W. Whitman, declined to make a statement. He dismissed a Boston Evening American reporter by declaring he had no statement to make.

Suzanne Lenglen and Miss Browne will appear in a special match at the Boston Arena on Oct. 15, according to tentative plans for the first appearance of this world's champion, who turned pro several weeks ago.

Former Champion Hopes to Benefit Tennis Game

New York, Sept. 7. (U.P.)—Miss Mary K. Browne of Santa Monica, former national women's tennis champion and captain of the American team that brought the Wimbledon cup back from England, will turn professional today.

"I am promoter, to formerly sign a contract with him to appear in as many matches with Miss Suzanne Lenglen in the latter's tour of the United States, beginning in New York on October 8."

"My action will probably shock tennis players and followers, but I feel that what I am doing will be for the good of the game in the end and take a lot of hypocrisy out of tennis in this country," Miss Browne said.

"I do not want to do anything that will hurt tennis, but it is a matter of business necessity. I am dependent upon my own resources and Mr. Browne's offer was such that I could not refuse it."

While the terms of the contract have not been revealed, it is reported that Miss Browne will be guaranteed $15,000, with 10 per cent of the profits. It is estimated that the tour will net her nearly $50,000. Two other women players and six men players will accompany Miss Browne and Miss Lenglen on the tour, Mrs. stated. He said he would receive the name of the others with a few days.

Upon signing her contract Miss Browne will be the first American tennis player to turn professional to seek a living by playing for money.

COAST CLUBS INVOLVED IN BIG BASEBALL DEAL

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 7.—An interesting deal was consummated by the San Francisco Giants and California clubs when Outfielder Gene Valla went to the Oaks in exchange for Pitcher Red Kump. Kump had been with Pittsburgh a few seasons ago. Valla had been with the Reds since 1922 and last year was ranked as the big league timber in the making.

MALONEY BIDS $10,000 FOR FREEDOM

BY JACK CONWAY

JIM MALONEY has offered John J. McGrath, his manager, $10,000 for the five-year contract he has with the South Boston heavyweight. The contract has a few months less than four years to run.

McGrath has firmly told Maloney that it will take $15,000 to buy out his interest in Jim's right hand punches. McGrath, a former champion, would like to continue as Maloney's manager.

Jack London, 1904 offer was made in the belief it would be accepted. This was the amount McGrath asked for his contract with Maloney when the fighter and pilot were at odds last January. Since then Maloney has knocked out Jack Weiner and Joe Simon and beaten Charley Cook. These victories have caused an increase in Maloney's value as a fighter.

The latest difference between McGrath and Maloney started when the manager signed for a bout with Jack Renault. Jim decided he didn't want any of Renault's cash and told McGrath to get the fight. The result was the tussle was indefinitely postponed.

It is hinted that Maloney prefers to fight another opponent, while McGrath feels that if Jim is to reach the top it is time for him to step out and battle some of the first class heavyweights.

There isn't a real long hole in Maloney's contract with McGrath. Its most likely fate for Johnny or return to the fish business. And they say you don't get the same kick out of selling fish for a week that one does of putting down $5,000 or so for thirty minutes of actual fighting.

It would seem that if Maloney is to get anywhere in the fight racket that he should devote more of his time to fighting and less to the tussle with his manager. This writer believes there is a whole lot of getting to Jim's system, but the proper place to bring it out is in the ring.

DRIVER FALLS DEAD; MOUNT IS SECOND

Aylesford, N. B., Sept. 7. (A.P.)—Harry C. Lydiate, veteran of the harness racing sport, saw his fatal accident yesterday when he was fatally stricken by his balky and his horse, Brian Lee, ran into a tree on the 220 trot and pace.

At a critical stage in the heat, when the aged driver of countless victories was urging his horse to the front, Lydiate suddenly threw up his hands and fell to the ground dead. Brian Lee had just passed Toronto Lady when the reins fell in the lifeless hands of his driver.

He slowed for a fraction of a second, then he turned around and in a splendid stride on to the place.

John McKee, a veteran of the track, Fire Baker of Kingston, N. B., was a close second, followed by the latter, with reins dragging, pulled up alongside and passed him, then heaved a sigh for the dead horse. Aubrey the Great White the spectators watched in awe, the horse reared as though driven by a madman.

Aubrey the Great passed under the wire a trifle ahead of the latter, then he turned around and in a splendid stride on to the place.

SHARKEY ASKS FOR A CHANGE WITH CHAMP

Jack Sharkey, balked in his effort to fight George Godfrey tonight as a result of a knee injury suffered by the Philadelphia heavyweight, the World's Heavyweight champion, in the Philadelphia heavyweight mill at Philadelphia on September 22.

Sharkey's only stipulation to secure Sharkey as a spring partner, but was unsuccessful, as Sharkey at the time was concerned with his tussle with Godfrey which has now fallen through.

Denney has been handicapped in his training by the lack of suitable sparring partners. Sharkey is the only prominent heavyweight who has consented to stand up and swap blows with the champion in a training camp.

Sharkey-Godfrey Bout Off Indefinitely

The boxing match between George Godfrey, giant colored boxer, and Jack Sharkey of Brighton which was postponed from last week till tonight, has been again set back. This time the Commercial Club did not fix a date, but announced that the bout will take place some time this month.

Godfrey claims to have injured his knee in a recent boxing show held in Portland, Ore. However, he is now in training at his manager's home in Boston, and is expected to return to the ring about coming to Boston. No definite matchmaker Eddie Mack will go to the Boston Commission for a hearing on the Godfrey-Sharkey matter.

Coaches Favor Eagles for Late Season Gridiron Duel

Williams College has turned down, definitely, the invitation of Boston College to meet the Eagles in football at Williamstown on September 25, an open date for both schools.

Director of Williams today, told the Boston Evening American that the invitation of Boston College had been given thorough consideration but that Coach Douglas Lawson of the Williams eleven figured the date as too early.

"We would welcome a game with Boston College," said Messer, "but we figured that our men would not be in shape to play a hard game against such strong opposition as Boston College would be certain to provide on September 25. We would like to play the Eagles at some later date but this will be impossible this season."

"We still have September 25 open and would like to play some small game on a practice game on that date," said Messer, "but we are not sure of the date yet."

Williams originally had a game booked with St. Stephens for September 25 date but the latter school cancelled when athletics at the institution were suddenly dropped following differences between the athletic officials and coaches.

DE MAR WINNER OF CAPE COD RACE

Barnstable, Sept. 7.—Charles De Mar annexed another leg on the Cape Cod race today in the fifteen mile race, won by Alvin Whitey, Michelson by about 9.9.

The surprise of the day was furnished by Herbert Lovell of Oyster Bay, who followed close on Alvin Whitey for eleven miles and refused to be shaken off by the sprinter. Lovell is only eighteen years old and was running in his first long distance race.

running easily on the half-mile track, lapped the eleven and was never pushed there.

Staging New Fall Styles

Today we are releasing several new Style Features and the "Meadowbrook" is perhaps the most original production staged this Fall.

It was an immediate Broadway favorite. I saw Julius Tannen try to conceal a little "Vanity" when he first put on this new bonnet.

Jack Osterman wore it... a "Night in Paris".

And Sir John Dunn yielded to this "Great Style Temptation".

As a matter of fact, I showed photographs in my windows last week of these three Stars wearing this new Style.

And if I remember correctly, they all selected a different color.

But if this new telescope crown with the puggare scarf band is a little too extreme, don't forget that we have all the other shapes and shades, including the more conservative and always popular Silver Grey Alpine, which is silk-bound and silk-lined.

Two League Opens Annual Conflict for Championship

The Twilight League "Little World Series" gets under way tonight at the Paul Street Stadium, where Lynn and Malden stage a ceremonial opening. Lefty Shea, the able pitcher, has been elected to jury against the invaders by Manager Frank Coughlin.

Malden, a dark horse in the three-cornered round robin, figures to top the hunting of these mountains as usual effectiveness. He is the "razzle" lone undefeated pitcher taking 11 successful starts.

Every time Shea steps on the rubber the opposition looks the little wanderer. However, this may not be the case in the titular conflict with the Yankees. With batters as the Wino brothers, Gus and Tony, Paddy's, Haddock, and captain swinging the bat, Shea is in a bad way. Shea's record is 11-0, with a 1.00 ERA, and he is the only pitcher in the league who has not been hit by a home run.

EAGLES HOLD FIRST GRID PRACTICE

By JOHN GILLOOLEY.

Boston College's football season got away to a flying start this afternoon on Alumni Field, Newton, where, after distribution of equipment by manager Drummond, Coach Frank Cavanaugh directed the initial practice of the season.

The Eagles are experimenting with a new coaching staff this season. All the members are B. C. grads, except "Doc" and the Major has but a year's coaching. It is believed by many that an Alhambra staff will be in charge of gridiron affairs at the Helix within a few years.

The Eagles' forward line, which looked like the Rock of Gibraltar in the Holy Cross game of last season, was kept in hand by graduation Art McManis and John Bonahue, 1933 captain, both guards; Gratian O'Connor and Eddie Harrison, veteran ends; and Steve Kobalinski, center, for good. Thus the B. C. line faces the problem of producing five line men and a placement blocker to fill the shoes of McManis.

The regular scheduled of 1935 remains intact. Captain Joe McKenney is back leading his after a run and number as counsel at a boys' camp in Atlantic. Jack Smith has one of the halfbacks, better, quicker and will do the kicking. The two remaining positions will be sought after by Tom Smith and Al Weston, fullbacks, and Joe Fitzgerald, a third downer, halfback. Dinny McNamara, a smallish captain, and Rocky Keltner, a stout blocker, will try to knock the captain out of the navigator's job.

Joe Egan, new coaching staff of the "Dicker" Doyle, who will have charge of the center and guards; Joe Kozowski, captain of the 24 team and tackle for the Providence Steam Rollers, and Tony Connors, who met with great success at Summer Academy last fall. "Masher" Joy will again be official scout and coach of the middle-browers who pull the opponents' pants on the regular.

Champ Must Be at His Best Declares Veteran Jack O'Brien

By Universal Service.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 7.—Philadelphia's Jack O'Brien, gladiator of a bygone era, shuffled into the Dempsey training camp and suddenly thereafter befuddled the situation by conflicting expressions of opinion.

To Dempsey he said: "If you're one-fourth as good as you were when you met Firo, you'll just ruin Tunney."

To the newspaper men, after the workout: "I think Dempsey will meet the toughest man he ever faced when he tackles Tunney. This Tunney is a far better boxer than Tom Gibbons ever was; he has longer arms, knows more, is a harder hitter, and I think he rates just about back of Jim Corbett in the matter of scientific greatness among the heavyweights."

"Dempsey will have to be at his best to retain his championship in this fight."

MET WITH

WHEN THE PARTY'S NEARLY OVER AND I FEEL SO BRIGHT AND GAY- THEY ASK ME TO TAKE A FAT GIRL HOME WHO LIVES TEN MILES AWAY!

CAPTAIN JOHNNY

CAPTAIN JOHNNY GOT HIS SHIP ALL READY FOR A LONG CRUISE- HE ADVERTISED FOR TWENTY HUSKY PRIZE FIGHTERS AND PUT THEM IN SAILOR SUITS- THEN HE SAID, "YOU FELLOWS THINK YOU KNOW WHAT ROUGH STUFF IS. YOU HAVEN'T SEEN ANYTHING YET." AND HE KNOCKED OUT A COUPLE OF THEM JUST TO SHOW WHAT KIND OF A PARTY IT WAS GOING TO BE.

"Yes, going to make a worthwhile scamp and ruin," he demanded.

"Yes, I am," she said, at an angry pitch. "I am, you would speak of him to me?"

"Thank God a woman be him beside myself," said the girl, "I am a little girl, a time boy!" I proud, I am."

"I say I sent him out his come."

To the amusement of him, she said, "I am a little girl, a time boy!" I proud, I am."

"Get by his pocket and test."

"Go buy yourself a test," she said, "I am a little girl, a time boy!" I proud, I am."

"I am full tonight, and I am light—go take a ride!"

Bound and Gagged!

By Arthur B. Reeve

TWO ECCENTRIC OLD LADIES, ANNA AND EMMA WAGSTAFF OWNS A BROADWAY BLOCK DESIRED FOR AN ART CENTRE BY THE ARCHITECT, HALSEY TALCOTT, WHO IS CLOSE TO MABEL SINGLETON, THEIR NIECE. KENNEDY INTERRUPTS AN ELOPEMENT OF SYDNEY TALCOTT WITH CLAYTON GOODWIN, THE OTHER NIECE. KENNEDY HAS PLANTED A STORY IN THE NEWSPAPERS. OF SOME IMPORTANT PAPERS HIDDEN IN THE OLD WAGSTAFF MANSION.

THE SAFE HAS BEEN OPENED-- EVERYTHING HAS BEEN STREWN ABOUT THE LIBRARY!

SH! THERE'S A NOISE IN THE RECEPTION ROOM!

IT'S GLADYS--BOUND AND GAGGED! I SUPPOSE BECAUSE EVERYBODY WANTED YOU TO STAY AWAY-- THAT'S WHY YOU CAME?

I HEARD TWO PEOPLE TALKING IN THE LIBRARY-- SAW EVERYTHING OPEN AND RIFLED-- COULDN'T MAKE OUT THE FACES-- ONE OF THEM CRAFTY!

AND I CAN GET YOU AT YOUR LABORATORY, MR. KENNEDY, ANY TIME I NEED YOU?

THIS CONFIRMS MY SUSPICION, SOMEONE IS EAGER TO DEFEAT YOUR RIGHTS UNDER THE OLD WILL.

AND I CAN GET YOU AT YOUR LABORATORY, MR. KENNEDY, ANY TIME I NEED YOU?

AND I CAN GET YOU AT YOUR LABORATORY, MR. KENNEDY, ANY TIME I NEED YOU?

RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Allie Michaels
O.K., they were merry playmates the long, long summer through, they trotted round from dawn to dusk and found so much to do! Such great adventures waited, such hours of fun, they dived in an enchanted world, the puppy and the boy! They found such pools for swimming, such fields for playing tag that, though the summer days were long, their hours could never lag. The swift years have gone flying with grief and joy; through all the man remembers still the puppy and the boy. A happiness yet lingers from out those bygone days to light the present with its glow, so lend him cheer always. He never sees gay playmates, a puppy and a boy, but that he feels once more the thrill of that past Summer's joy.

MEDBURY SAYS

By John P. Medbury

EVERY day the government is receiving complaints from people who have purchased real estate by mail. They claim that their lots don't live up to the postal cards. THEY think they've been swindled because the mosquitoes didn't show in the photographs. ONE man said he bought five acres of land because the climate looked wonderful in the picture. AFTER he saw it he wrote the Postoffice Department that his lot was covered with water. They told him to get out of there. HE was so sure that he took the whole five acres, then shipped them home in bottles. BUT before he got it to the express office the water came out and he lost half his land. ONE man visited his property the other day and was nearly drowned standing on his front yard. HE said it looked like the real estate company had bought the ocean and cut it up into building lots. WHEN the agent told him that it was only ten minutes to the station, he asked how far it was from the dock. THEN man who owned the lot next door said he was sorry he bought it because his dog couldn't swim. HE finally had to trade his acreage for a duck. AND his wife made him buy a life preserver for the cat.

A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS

By Helen Rowland
EVERYBODY wants to be distinguished, unusual, "different" and this is an age of INDIVIDUALITY. Everybody secretly yearns to be a "personality."—Oh, yes, he does, and longs to be considered unique and original, and all that sort of thing. Nobody is willing to be just "one of the crowd," or "among the masses!"

unique! Call the old lady "Madam," when you mean Old Thing.

Call your friend's boat, his motor car, and speak of buses as "wines" and of jugs as "gins." Speak English, and you'll be different!

Be equally POLITE—and give the world a delightful shock—a brand new thrill.

When you are introduced to a girl, bow gracefully and say "Do charmed!" Instead of "Hello Darling!" Don't try to kiss her for the first ten minutes. She will be a little dazed; but when she recovers, she will think "no original!" It will give her a real kick—I mean, a new sensation.

When you borrow a book or umbrella, return it with thanks, but unusual.

Don't sneeze at your hostess's cigarettes, sniff at her cocktails, or complain of her meal hours. You might even THANK her when you leave at the finish of the week-end party—and tip the servant for offering to pay for the rug you burned! It would give her SUCH a refreshment!

Speak English! When you sit thinking of your life, your help in your topos, call it your BAT. When you mention your dog, call them your "fret." Everybody will be utterly astonished.

When you mention your boy friend or your shik, call him your sport, or your fiancé, or your sweetheart, or your husband—whatever happens to be. When you mean your girl rage, call them "distress."

BE QUAIN. Speak English! When you sit thinking of your life, your help in your topos, call it your BAT. When you mention your dog, call them your "fret." Everybody will be utterly astonished.

California Result Is NOT Indorsement of World Court

The senatorial campaign in the California Republican primaries was fought out on the issue of the World Court of the League of Nations.

Senator Shortridge, who voted for the Court, ran against two anti-Court candidates, Judge Robert M. Clarke, of Los Angeles, and Congressman Walter F. Linsberger, of Long Beach.

Senator Shortridge won because the anti-Court vote was split. He got 329,000 votes, Clarke 232,000, Linsberger 124,000. So Shortridge won the nomination though there were 27,000 more votes against the Court than for it.

Therefore Senator Shortridge's renomination does not mean that the people of California want the World Court. It simply means that the pro-Court votes were better marshaled.

The Democratic senatorial primary in South Carolina exactly repeated the results in California. In South Carolina Senator Smith, who voted for the World Court, ran against two anti-World Court candidates—Edgar A. Brown and ex-Senator Dial. Smith got 53,000 votes, Brown 49,000, Dial 26,000. The anti-Court vote was 20,000 larger than the pro-Court vote.

But under the South Carolina election law, since Smith did not get an absolute majority of all votes cast, there will be a run-off primary between the two highest candidates, Smith and Brown. Brown's nomination is predicted and is likely. The Democratic nomination in South Carolina is equivalent to election, so South Carolina is on the way to present the nation with another anti-Court Senator.

South Carolina's anti-Court vote, split in the first primary, will have another opportunity to unite and triumph. California's anti-Court vote was split and beaten, since there is no run-off primary in California.

The movement to get out of the Court proceeds with increasing momentum. The last two weeks record these developments:

1.—On August 24 Senator Gooding, of Idaho, who voted for the Court, was renominated by the Republican State Convention only after he had publicly regretted his action and pledged himself to vote for taking us out.

2.—On August 28 Senator Trammell, of Florida, who voted for the Court, announced that he has changed and in December will bring up in the Senate a resolution of withdrawal.

3.—On August 30 the Republican State Convention in Oklahoma instructed Senator Harrell and Senator Pine to vote for withdrawal from the Court.

4.—On August 31 Edgar A. Brown, in South Carolina, an anti-Court, prevented the renomination of Senator Smith and forced a run-off primary that will assure Brown the nomination.

Candidates and elections come and go. Principles remain and finally triumph.

Old Maid Insurance

A speaker advocates insuring all girls against "single blessedness" after the age of forty-five.

Each female child would be insured at birth and the premiums paid by the father until she married or went to work.

Then she would have an income in her old age if she had no one to support her.

Old-fashioned maudlin ideas, subscribing to the belief that man is absolute master of the household, will not favor the plan.

They will argue that such assurance of a livelihood being provided outside the marriage would make women too independent and hard to manage.

But such ideas are betaking themselves rapidly along the way of the divine right of kings, and sooner or later a position of greater equality in marriage is coming.

Divorce and old maid insurance may some day be a dual step in this direction.

Remarkable Centennial

Among the recent centennials and anniversaries attention has been called to the fact that 1926 is the centennial of the detachable collar.

Previous to 1826 men's collars were always attached to their shirts.

A Mrs. Montague, of Troy, New York, got tired of her husband's insisting upon a new shirt whenever his collar was dirty and conceived the plan of detaching the collar. The idea was taken up and introduced into France in 1850 and it was officially sanctioned a few years later by Napoleon III. and the King of Prussia.

Some people have erroneously held that the detachable collar, and especially the stiff collar, was an invention of the devil. This is probably giving the devil credit for more brains than he possesses.

Why Our Films Win

Oscar Laemmle, moving picture magnate, says that hereafter movies will be more and more international. Even Chinese tastes will be considered by the producer, although there are only about one hundred motion picture theatres in China.

Pictures emphasizing national traits will not be encouraged, and the moving picture industry will be added to the internationalities already used to promote internationalism.

By the way, he says that the reason why American films are so popular in Europe is that the Americans have the good artists. Other countries must build up a reputation for their artists before they can succeed. He says that no picture with an unknown cast has ever been really popular.

Will o' the Wisp

DOG IS MAN'S MOST FAITHFUL FRIEND

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THREE famous newspaper editors were once asked what news story would interest the most readers.

Two of the three gave the same answer: "The story of a dog saving the life of a child."

There is more than chance in the presence of the two elements of the story. For next to children, men feel their closeness to dogs.

A cat is the friend of a locality; the dog is essentially the friend of man.

In California a man and his dog were washed off a rock by a ground swell when fishing. The dog made the shore safely. The man, a feeble swimmer, was being carried out to sea when the dog plunged in again and struggled to bring him to shore. Exhausted, he went down, refusing to abandon his master.

Napoleon in his memoirs records an incident, comparatively insignificant, but revealing the fidelity of a dog, which occurred one night on a battlefield.

"Amidst the deep silence of a beautiful moonlight night," he wrote, "a dog leaping suddenly from beneath the clothes of his dead master rushed upon us and returned to his hiding place howling piteously. He alternately licked his master's hand and ran toward us."

"I involuntarily stopped to contemplate the scene. 'This man,' thought I, 'has his friends in camp, but he is forsaken by all except his dog.'"

"Courage, Fidelity," are two of the words inscribed on the monument raised recently in New York City to "Balto," the maltine dog who led the heroic dash to Nome last Winter.

The preposition "of" might well be inserted between the two words to describe the nobility of the nature of dogs the world over.

From Wortley, England, comes a twenty-word story relating the tale of a humble and heroic vigil of unending fidelity.

"After living six years among the graves in the cemetery where his master is buried, a black Pomeranian has died," says the cable.

Six years of silent, inviolate, unchanging vigil by a "dumb beast" which loved its master!

It is not to be wondered at that a court in a Western State, with all due formality, handed down a legal decision that the dog is man's most faithful friend.

LEAVING THE PAST ENTIRELY BEHIND YOU

It is not a good thing to try to forget the past especially if it holds something in the way of a good lesson.

After some efforts you may have succeeded in driving from your memory nearly all of some certain things you did, something of which you would now feel ashamed.

What you have suffered as the result of violation of natural or man-made laws should keep you in the right direction unless you have glossed over the seriousness of your wrongdoing.

Perhaps you have made so many comparisons between your infraction and those of other men that you think at last that what you did was not so serious as it once seemed to you and so you are not so guarded against a repetition of that offense or a similar one.

Don't forget yourself so easily—others don't forget or forgive so quickly as you think they do.

Don't congratulate yourself that the shady things of your past are too far back to be remembered.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

SAT in front of the fireplace last night with Jerry and Dorothy, Bill and Jean.

Jerry, Dorothy, Bill and Jean are all edging twenty and they have Life Doped Out.

You get that way because you're going to be twenty years from now. None of this stuff, funny, middle aged failure stuff for them.

No one needs to be that way unless he wants to be.

You get that way because you Don't Keep Up.

You let yourself Run to Seed.

You make all sorts of compromises and surrenders—your Love, Jerry, Dorothy, Bill and Jean aren't going to Run to Seed or Lose Their Grip. They're going to keep Up—right up to front. In fact that's where most of the Younger Generation is going to be, twenty years from now. They aren't going to slump as all the other generations have done. They're going to Get Somewhere.

That's what Jerry, Dorothy, Bill and Jean think—and thank God they do think so!

The human race would be ready for the final curtain if Youth didn't think that way. All that is valiant about our knowledge, within ourselves, live in our record has come from just such confident, impetuous expectation. And we need to preserve that expectation.

It might be preserved.

There's really no reason why most of us should be middle-aged failures at forty. This quartet of sage youngsters might actually work the miracle they anticipate if only—

IF ONLY THEY COULD SEE WITHIN THE REAL DANGER LIES.

Wore Wrong Armor

Why did we who were so armed against disaster drift into it despite our splendid resolution?

Because WE WERE ARMED AGAINST THE WRONG THINGS.

We were armed against outside things.

WE WERE NOT ARMED AGAINST OURSELVES.

FAMOUS MOTHERS

It seems strange that a man whose influence extended through so many countries, and down through the ages, should have been the son of an ordinary miner, and a woman whose intellectual accomplishments were few. But despite this fact it is certain that the home life of Martin Luther, founder of Protestantism, was a model of domestic discipline and character.

It is certain, however, that Martin Luther as a boy was not spared the rod. In the fifteenth century, methinks of child discipline was strict, and the child who disobeyed the dictates of his parents' wisdom was punished severely. A story is told about the young Luther which proves this point. One day he stole some of his mother's money and was caught by her. She leaped to and he was beaten so severely that the blood oozed from his forehead.

Of course this is not indicative of the treatment he received all the time. Although the Luther home was not one where children were accorded much tenderness, at the same time they were not treated unkindly or unlovingly. The wages of a miner were scarcely sufficient to enable Luther's parents to send his children to the best of schools, but he managed to give them a good education. And when Luther was fourteen he was sent to the school of the Augustines. His mother, who was a woman of high character, was with him, and she realized that his abilities, which were apparent at an early age, should be given some opportunity to develop.

Lowly irreverent Luther was a man to whom a mother's influence proved by his own statement that he was a much greater man than the home of a glorious woman.

EXPLAINING ABOUT STAR MAGNITUDE

By GARRET P. SERVICES

"WHAT DO they mean by 'absolute magnitude of a star'?" asks a reader.

By "absolute magnitude" the astronomer means the brightness that any star would present if placed at a certain chosen distance from the earth. This distance is arbitrarily fixed as that corresponding to a parallax of one-tenth of a second of arc.

But don't turn away; this isn't Greek, or if it seems so, for the moment it will become plain English after a little simple explanation.

First tackle the word "parallax." That means in this case, merely the angle subtended by a radius of the earth's orbit as it would appear when seen from a star—any star, though the size of the angle would be just as the star's distance was greater.

Now, a second of arc is the 1/60th of a degree, and it is known as a fact of observation that a distance of about 19,000,000,000 miles would correspond to a parallax of one second.

That is to say, from a star 19,000,000,000 miles away the radius of the earth's orbit (which is equal to its distance from the sun, or 93,000,000 miles) would present an angle, or parallax, of only one second of arc.

Put the star ten times farther away, or 190,000,000,000 miles and the parallax would shrink to one-tenth of a second of arc.

Here, then, we are arrived at the ideal distance which the astronomer has chosen as a standard for comparing the absolute magnitudes of stars.

WORDS OF THE WISE MEN

Riches expose a man to pride and luxury and a foolish elation of heart.

Novelty is the great-pan of pleasure.

Great effects come of industry and perseverance.

Use your memory; you will amply experience a gradual improvement while you take care not to overdo it.

Ridicule has followed the vestiges of Truth, but never usurped her place.

Pride goes before, and is followed by, shame.

Desires by a long continuance from their things, come at length to be sickly.

True politeness consists in being easy on one's self, and in making everybody about one as easy as one can.

We surely is most in want of another's assistance who is complacent in his own.

Groundless prejudices and weak notions of conscience, instead of tenderness, blinded too many other wise good men.

Pure reason or intuition holds a similar relation to the understanding that perception holds to sensation.

The poet is the morose, barbarous, upon the orator.

Every man has a fair claim to be as great as he pleases.
